

Block 1: Gender and Redistribution of Resources and Wealth

Block Introduction

The block 1 has five Units. The Unit 1 titled as “Plural Financial Inclusion Strategies” which talks about the concept of plural financial inclusion and also provides overall situation of plural financial inclusion at macro economic level. The entire unit discusses the significance of implementing plural financial strategies at all levels. To provide plural financial inclusion, state as well as non state actors have to bring different strategies. The second Unit discusses financial institutions like banks and credit institutions. The third Unit titled as “Supportive Infrastructure”. In which different supportive infrastructure is discussed for successful implementation of plural financial strategies. There are different strategies for bringing financial inclusion at local level. Community and social mobilization is one such strategy. This is elaborately given in the fourth Unit. It starts with defining the concepts and further the unit discusses the community and social mobilization elaborately with different examples. The final and fifth Unit in this block is linkage between financial literacy and financial inclusion. The Unit analyses the need for financial literacy for financial inclusion. It also cited the financial literacy survey in which how many per cent of the population are financially literate at national level. Finally the Unit brings the inter-linkages between financial literacy and financial inclusion.
